CONGRESS KNOW FACTS

Federal Trade Commission Solves the Question That Has Troubled the Purchaser for Many Months Past

Washington, Jan. 24.-Hoarding of hides by meat packers while shoe prices have been climbing upward and excessive profits to the packers,

"Such a record of food animals ought not at the same time to mean the country should be forced to pay the world for leather products made abnormally for leather products made from the correspondingly increased take-off of hides," the report declared.

Estimates of the international institute of agriculture up to 1916 did not indicate any shortage in the world total of cattle, the report says.

The commission reported that the quantity of hides stored by the "big five" Chicago packers—Armour, Swift, Morris, Cudahy and Wilson—increased 45 per cent during 1916 and the first half of 1917. These five concerns were declared to be the "chief factors" in the hide market. While they had on hand Jan. 31, 1916, a total of $8,033,193 pounds of hides, the amount had increased to 127,634.

Stock held by the smaller packers showed an even more striking increase, amounting to 83 per cent in the same period, although the total was only 20,986,106 pounds July 31, 1917. The grand total held by 276 interstate packers including the "big five" increased from 98,980,726 pounds to 147,789,271 pounds, or practically one-half. Imports of hides also were found by the commission to have increased in 1917, 70 per cent more than

CANNING CLUBS OF ROCK COUNTY RANK HIGHEST IN STATE

5,938 Pints of Fruit and Vegetables
Canned Last Year—More Clubs
Will Be Formed This Summer.

Proof of the statement made recently that the canning clubs of Rock county formed last summer accomplished more than those of any other county in the state is given in a report of the 1917 work which has just been compiled by Miss Elizabeth Amery, of Madison, assistant state club leader. The report shows that the total number of pints of fruit and vegetables canned by all clubs was 5,938 pints, ranking first place. Fond du Lac county followed with 4,659 pints. Dane county was next with 3,785.

Without Beloit, the canning clubs of this county canned 5,527 pints, a record which speaks well for the efforts of Mr. Markham, who organized all of these clubs and pushed the work in the county. The clubs are planning to accomplish more next year and it is probable that several new organizations will be formed in parts which were not represented last year.

Miss Florence McCartney of the Rock Prairie club won high honors in the county. Miss Fern Patricque of Orfordville a close second. The report of the county winners follows: Postville, Mary Butts, 15 yrs., 189 pints; Edgerton, Elizabeth Thorne, 216 pints; Fulton, Loretta Handke, 13 yrs., 135 pints; Fern Patricque, 16 yrs., 315 pints; Clinton Jct., Agnes Bue, 16 yrs., 41 pints; Florence M. McCartney, 16 yrs., 346 pints; and Milton Jct., Vine C. Randolph, 13 yrs., 161 pints.

The report of the canning clubs of this county as prepared by Miss Amery follows:

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY POSTPONE EXERCISES

Program and Dance Under Auspices of Sixteenth Separate Company
Take Place Friday Evening.

Formal announcement is given that the Caledonian society, who have become famous in years past for their entertainment of the national day at Beloit, have postponed their annual event, which was scheduled to be held on Friday of this week, January 25th. A general later date this society will hold their ball or exercises as may be determined by the committee in charge.

In view of this fact and the change in dates for the regular weekly dance of the Sixteenth separate company of the Wisconsin State Guard, from Tuesday night owing to the fuel administration order, the company have decided to put on a Burns program Friday night at the Armory, following the drills by the high school battalion at six-thirty and the regular company drill at seven-thirty.

Efforts are being made to obtain the services of a genuine Scotch bagpiper for the evening, as well as to arrange for an exhibition of the Highland piping in costume. George Hatch has arranged a special musical program between eight, forty-five and one-half hours which will include all the Scottish airs, with many of the songs dear to the land of the heather and the thistle, with both song and music numbers. Then will follow the dance of the evening.

Until the present coal crisis is averted the drills of both the high school cadets and the Sixteenth Separate company will be held on the same evening as the weekly dance until Lent starts February 13th. This means a material saving in fuel and as the world conserves its resources with the popular sentiment. The first of these series of drills and dances will be held Friday evening.

FARM LABOR SEEMS TO BE PLENTIFUL

County Agent L. A. Markham Can Supply Present Demand for Farm Help With Experienced Men.

Within the past few days L. A. Markham, county agricultural agent, has received applications from six experienced married men wanting positions on farms. He has also received applications from several single men who are experienced farm hands.

During the past week he has placed men with Ra Boyd, Lima Center; George Halverson, Edgerton; and other Rock county farmers. Notwithstanding this fact, he still has more applications from prospective farm hands than places for them. The supply exceeds the demand just at present.

Anyone wanting married farm labor should notify Mr. Markham at once and he will not doubt be able to supply the present demand with men of good experience.

GOSSARD FACTORY TO INCREASE OUTPUT OF THE LOCAL BRANCH

The largest factory in the United States devoted exclusively to the manufacture of brassieres will be the local branch of the Gossard's chain of factories. Owing to the inability of the local plant to supply the orders coming to it for brassieres, the company has decided to increase its output.

To this end, some machines formerly used in the making of corsets are being changed over to fit them for the making of brassieres. Other machines, about fifteen in number, have been ordered and will be soon installed and ready for business. The whole top floor is being rearranged to make a convenient place for the work of making the brassieres, 300 dozen a day being the output in the past, and the new facilities will make it possible to accomplish much more in the future.

The congestion of freight has made it very difficult to secure materials, and this has delayed work somewhat, but the manager, Mr. Turner, stated that another week would see practically all their stock in the hands of their dealer and cotton material was bought early and is already in their storerooms. Of the lace, silk and finer materials which are used in the factory and the more expensive garments, about half of it is imported and the rest is of domestic manufacture.

There are now about 175 girls at work in the factory and the more the work increases. No trouble has been experienced so far in getting the help required. There is a factory in Toronto which takes care of the Canadian local ones are made a specialty of these articles. With the increased facilities there is a bright outlook for a still larger and more flourishing factory to be done by the local Gossard factory.

DISCUSS SWEATSHOP WORK IN BIG CITIES

A discussion of the sweatshop system of labor was a feature of the program of the meeting of the Athens Class held at the local Y. M. C. A. last night. Mrs. Dennison was the leader, and she brought out the fact of the long hours, the low wages, and the unsanitary conditions of the sweatshops. She also spoke of the story of a book calculated to instruct one along this line. An article by Florence Kelly on the sweating system was read by Mrs. Lowth. It showed that 1600 licenses were issued in New York City for work shops to be established in homes. The evils of the system were well illustrated. Mrs. Lowth also read an article on the bad sanitary conditions surrounding this work and mentioned seventy-five articles manufactured in the sweatshops. She spoke of the laws regulating work which had been passed in twelve states of which Wisconsin was one. A paper was read describing how the uniforms of soldiers are made by the sweatshops, but this practice has been discontinued chiefly by the efforts of Secretary Baker, who had organized a committee to investigate the sweatshop industry. It was noted that the Consumer's League organized in 1899 had done a great work in inducing people to buy goods bearing the label of the league, which such garments were made under sanitary conditions. Over sixty firms making white goods for ladies' wear are so designated in the United States.

MEETING OF THE WOMEN'S OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

A yearly meeting and election of officers was held Wednesday afternoon by the members of the Women's club of the Congregational church. The report of the officers for the year was given by Mrs. Frank Spooner, showing the state of their finances and the amount of work accomplished by each. There is a plan to see which can do the most. The small amount of money remaining in the treasury of the Women's club was voted to be invested in the Liberty bond for the present. The election of officers resulted in the following list: President, Mrs. William Menzies; vice president, Mrs. William Bladon; secretary, Mrs. Frank Spooner; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Pascoe. Unable to secure anyone willing to serve on the "ways and means" committee, it was decided to have the several divisions carry out this work for the time being. A committee on care of time and silver was appointed to serve in that work.

CITY FEDERATION OF MISSIONS HOLDS MEETING TUESDAY

A special meeting of the executive board of the City Federation of Missions was held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Tuesday. Representatives from all the local churches were in attendance. Mrs. C. E. Ewing presiding. It was decided to hold a quarterly meeting of the organization held at the time of the ministers' conference, taking place in the city in February. The speaker of the occasion will be President C. E. Ewing. The program of the meeting will include a religious and educational lines, on Tuesday afternoon, February 5th, in the Methodist church. A committee consisting of Mrs. Ketchum and Mrs. Catchpole were empowered to complete arrangements for the event. The three evening lectures for this conference are expected to be very fine, and the women's committee voted to co-operate in selling tickets for them, the whole course of three being for the nominal price of twenty-five cents.

CONTESTANTS IN VOLLEY TOURNAMENT ARE BECOMING EXCITED AS SCORES EVEN UP

The chief of the admiralty, Commander Bearmore, announced this morning that the hitherto invincible volley ball Sappers, were disastrously defeated by the U. S. Sappers. The morale of the Sappers was completely broken when a surprise attack was made by the U. S. Sappers, which resulted in a victory for the submariners.

Reinforcements came, like Granchy at Waterloo, too late, only Captain Thorson remained unperturbed amid the onslaught, but his whole company became so demoralized that he could not rally them.

The standing of the teams now is: Huebel, 834; Thorson, 500; Tallman, 333; and Dunwiddie, 000.

Dunwiddie's Drighlites, next Tallman's Tanks tonight. The supremacy of the air and land forces is to be determined.

GIANTS' OUTLOOK FOR 1918 SEASON IS RATHER GLOOMY

(By International News.)
New York, Jan. 24.—The Giants are on the threshold of their 1918 season weaker than when they finished last fall. Whether that fact will keep them from winning another pennant remains to be seen.

They have lost Charley Herzog, which fact in itself will make a better club of the Giants, for Herzog, admittedly, would have been a liability rather than an asset. However, Herzog played wonderful ball last summer. It was his efforts more than anything else that set the Giants at the top of the heap and placed them in the world's series.

Larry Doyle cannot even make a commendable effort to play such baseball as Herzog is capable of. He never saw the day when he was valuable for all around ability as the new member of the Boston Braves. He is a far better hitter and is possessor of a sunny disposition, something that was not Herzog's boast.

In addition to Herzog's loss the Giants stand devoid of the running utility of a trio of the greatest left-hand fingers ever herded together in a baseball club. Slim Salee is practically through as a regular effective pitcher. Fred Schupp never will be better, although it is probable he will be just as good during the coming season as he was a year ago. Babe Benton will be practically as effective as last summer, although he is nearing the point that divides between superlative effectiveness and the decline.

The pitching staff of the Giants, however, will have some right-handed support. Jess Parson has been added and he is a most effective young man. He has been noted, however, that John McGraw failed to make use of Pol Perritt, one of the best right-handers in the National league, when he had the opportunity and probably lost the world's series because he ignored the fact that Perritt would have been able to stop the White Sox.

Parson's lack of undoubted value in the pitching staff. He and Perritt, provided McGraw isn't still determined to keep away from using the former Cardinal, will fill in the weak spots of the pitching corps.

But pitchers cannot pitch and score runs at the same time. And runs are a most necessary commodity. The Giants, with their power, should be a better run-scoring machine.

This year Robertson is not going to be the hitter nor the base runner that he has been in the past, and Tony Kaut is going to be a much diminished speed. George Burns undoubtedly will be just as good as ever.

There is retrogression among the Giants at third base and shortstop. Neither Fletcher nor Zimmerman can be expected to play so brilliantly as a year ago. Young Holke never has been more than an ordinary first baseman and he will remain so.

The Giants' catching staff is admirable. George Gibson and Bill Rariden both are practically through with their stardom days, but in Lew McCarty the Giants possess the best young catcher in baseball, and Jack Umlow is expected to become a most valuable receiver.

Decline in the infield will hit the Giants hardest. It may affect their chances for the pennant more than can be observed at present.

CHURCH BOWLING LEAGUE.

Captain Nichols' Methodist bowlers last evening completely rolled away from the Baptist bowlers at the Y. M. C. A. alleys, the Methodists having a score of 2385 to 1924 for the Baptists. Nichols was high man for the Methodists, scoring 201 in the first inning. The Presbyterian bowlers will meet the Congregational bowlers tomorrow night for the next meet of the bowling league.

NO BALL IN CUBA; MEN ASK TOO MUCH

Mike Gonzales.

The Cuban ball players seem to have killed the goose that laid the golden egg. Last season, Cuba's leading baseball magazine, Cuba's leading baseball magazine, was at some expense to put the game on sound financial footing and after spending much money in parks and so on Brown split his receipts fifty-fifty with the players. This year the players headed by Mike Gonzales of the St. Louis Cardinals, made bigger demands in the way of remuneration and Brown declared that it wouldn't do. Gonzales demanded seventy-five per cent of the receipts or nothing and Brown assured him it would be nothing.

NO BRAINS, NO BRAINS.

REINSTATED NOW THAT HE'S NEEDED

Earl Yingling.

Earl Yingling, the ex-National league southpaw, has been reinstated by the national commission now that he has expressed a desire to report to Washington. Yingling was to have reported to the Senators last season, but refused to do so. Though in and out of the big leagues in the past several seasons Yingling still has lots of good stuff and the game is glad to have him back in such times as these when every bit of talent is in demand.

MORRIS MULLEN

Ball players this season will have the enjoyment of taking their uniforms around the circuit with them, for the days of yore. They will pack their monkey-suits, as they are known to the trade, right in a little ole suitcase and be their own baggage men. The players of more recent years have always had wardrobe trunks wherein to wait their costumes from one town to another, but with the railroads up against it in various ways the players will have to see to their own luggage. Last season when there was a railroad strike threatening the secretary of the New York Yankees dashed out and ordered thirty large steel grips for the players, and for the rest of the season the Yankees will be in good training for the stunt next season. The players of the other big league clubs will have to get the habit. Those who have no valets—and there are a number of them—might hire a caddy to help them out in the difficulty.

Buck Herzog first joined the major leagues under the name of McGhee and the Phillies and Eddie Collins began his major league career under the name of Sullivan.

Harry Tate, ex-ball player—he was with the Athletics a few seasons back—and the heavyweight who won from Fulton on a foul, has the distinction of having been the world's champion for a period of several weeks. Now that Fulton has flattened Tate upon meeting him a second time, the heavyweight title returns to Fred. But the wa Fulton figures Tate was really the world's champ for that brief space, in order to get the idea it must be understood that Fulton is now the world's champion, having claimed the title when Willard didn't come through with a reasonable offer to meet him. However, all that may be, Tate has announced that he will retire from the prize ring and take up baseball again. He will probably end up more at that. Tate was managed by a wise head, however, old Billy McCannery, who had Luther McCarty at the time the youngster was going his greatest clip.

Fred Walker, the minor league pitcher who made such a hit as coach of the Williams college football team last fall, was with the Giants for a time some years ago.

Cy Williams and Dode Paskert, traded for each other, were pretty evenly matched in their last season. Williams was a first baseman and Paskert a pitcher.

A. K. McCromber, who owns the biggest stables in America, was pretty big last winter last season, with largest turf winner last season, with a sum of $85,678. W. S. Kilmer was second with $64,902, and H. P. Whitne third with $59,000.

The Pacific Coast league will start the 1918 season with one change in its circuit, Sacramento taking the place of Portland.

Tony Brothen, the Cardinals' young catcher, has been released to the Little Rock club of the Southern association. Branch Rickey expects to sign a college backstop shortly.

Jack Dunn is agitating a movement to have the headquarters of the International league shifted from New York to Baltimore, but as yet he hasn't won over any of the other club owners in that circuit to his idea.

Ed Klepper of the Cleveland Indians pitched in forty-one games last season, yet he did not hurl a single complete game.

TWO MORE ARRESTED FOR GIVING LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS HERE

Federal Authorities Ask Local Police to Hold Men Who Offered Liquor to Soldiers Visiting Here.

Two more arrests have been made by the police department and the offenders are now being held in the city jail. The first arrest was made on Monday, January 22, when a man named John J. O'Brien, of Delavan, was arrested for giving liquor to soldiers. The second arrest was made on Tuesday, January 23, when a man named Edward O'Brien, of Delavan, was arrested for giving liquor to soldiers.

George is alleged to have accompanied John J. O'Brien, a regular army man, on a tour of the city of Janesville for him. George, when arrested this morning in the municipal court of Janesville, was charged with giving liquor to soldiers. The police show that George was drunk and that he secured the liquor while with O'Brien.

O'Brien Case. Edward O'Brien, although his home is in Delavan, has been working in Janesville for some time. He was arrested last evening after he had made several persistent attempts to give liquor to two soldiers. The soldiers refused to accept the liquor. O'Brien is alleged to have continued his entreaties and even offered them the use of his room at his boarding house where they could enjoy the liquor without any danger of being detected. The soldiers, however, refused to accept his offer and O'Brien was arrested. A bottle, half full of whiskey, was found in his pocket and will be used as evidence.

The question which appeared in the mind of the judge and which was the reason for the call to the United States marshal's office, was to ascertain whether the offering of liquor to soldiers constituted an offense against the federal laws.

The men will be held as federal prisoners and will be dealt with by the United States marshal. A heavy penalty is prescribed by law for men convicted of giving liquor to soldiers or aiding them in making a purchase.

Three Other Offenders. Judge Maxfield had a busy day with men charged with drunkenness in addition to the settlement of the cases involving the giving of liquor to soldiers. Theodore Hoyer, a frequent visitor to the court, although the police state that he broke a lamp over the head of his wife while in an excited condition, a first offense, was fined $5 and ordered to do community work. Evidence was taken, however, from the police who arrested him and he was fined $25 and ordered to do community work.

Joe Gruber, of Whitewater, came to this city because that city was dry, but stayed a little too long, as he fell into the hands of the police. He was fined $35 and ordered to do community work. Joe Hutter was given a unique sentence by the judge. He was charged with drunkenness and as he was a frequent visitor to the court, the judge told him that he must not come to Janesville for ninety days and that he must remain at the institute and refrain from using intoxicating beverages.

Serious Charges. Mrs. Bertha Poeple of Port Atkinson and Gene Soule were given heavy fines by Judge Maxfield yesterday, after a very serious charge. They were arrested at a local hotel here after word had been received by the police that the couple were headed in this direction. Both pleaded guilty to the charges. Mrs. Poeple was fined $100 and Soule $150.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis and Mrs. Schultz, and Mrs. Emma, who live in this city, were visitors to the funeral of the late Fritz Krueger. R. G. Wilson of Sheboygan, who has been a visitor in town this week, returned home on Wednesday. The Art League will meet on Friday afternoon at Library Hall. Current events will be taken up, with Mrs. Hooper as the leader.

A club of ladies met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Baker on High street. A sum of money was raised, and donated to the Red Cross. At half past four coffee and sandwiches were served.

Mrs. Fred Capelle and Miss Etta Capelle entertained eight ladies this afternoon. This was one of the chain of card parties given to raise money to buy yarn for the Red Cross. One was held, also at the home of Mrs. H. H. Faust on Milton avenue and Mrs. W. P. Sayles on Court street. From these three meetings four dollars was turned in.

The Eastern Star ladies who have been doing their Red Cross work at the Masonic Temple, will do their work in the large room at the city hall in the future. They decided to do this as they have more conveniences for the work at the city hall. The work will be under the supervision of Mrs. Charles Saborn and Mrs. T. O. Howe.

The girl's sewing and doll class will meet on Saturday forenoon at the Lincoln building, instead of at the high school, as the latter building is being fumigated.

There will be a meeting of the Art League at the library tomorrow afternoon, Friday, January 25. Mrs. Hooper will be the leader.

PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE ADDED PRECAUTIONS

Spread of Small Pox Can Be Prevented If People Will Confine Themselves to Their Homes When Feeling a Fever.

"Added precautions should be taken by everyone to guard against the spread of smallpox in the city," said Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, city health officer, this morning. "Any person noting even slight eruptions or feeling a fever coming on should immediately confine himself to his home and consult a physician. If this is not done, many people will be exposed to the disease and it will spread more rapidly. One particularly instance where this was the case, a girl, who, feeling a slight fever, continued with her work, but was taken with smallpox the next day. A large number of people were unnecessarily exposed by her in this way."

There are at present fourteen cases in the city. One case was reported yesterday, but one card was taken down this morning leaving the number still fourteen.

PLAN FORMATION OF JUNIOR RED CROSS

Meeting Held This Afternoon at Which Field Secretary McMillan of Chicago Outlined Lined Plans for Organization.

To make plans for the organization of a junior auxiliary of the Red Cross, a meeting of the executive committee of the local chapter was held this afternoon in the commercial club. One of the field men of the central division, was present and outlined the plans and told of what has been done along the lines of getting children to aid with the work in other cities. Organization of the children in Janesville will be begun very shortly. Some work has already been accomplished in this regard, but there is need for much advancement. Superintendent Faust conferred with Mr. McMillan after the meeting as to the method of procedure.

OBITUARY

J. H. Byers. Funeral services for J. H. Byers of Milwaukee, who died at his home Wednesday afternoon, will be held at the Oak Hill cemetery chapel Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Rev. Melrose officiating. The body will arrive in this city at 10:40 o'clock Friday morning on the C. M. & St. P. railroad.

The deceased leaves two sisters in this city and one brother in Milwaukee to mourn his death. They are Mrs. C. A. Gorman and Mrs. James R. Gardner and E. H. Byers.

Mrs. Clara Manerva Wikom. Mrs. Clara Manerva Wikom died at her home, 705 Milton avenue, on Wednesday, January 23, shortly after noon. The funeral will be held from the home on Friday at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Wikom was born in the town of Fulton on December 11, 1844, the eldest of seven children. One of her brothers, John Hurd, died at the old home farm earlier this month. Clara and John Hurd was the oldest of seven children, of whom the only one now left is Mrs. Sarah E. Scofield of this city. She was married in 1883, and they lived in the town of Fulton until 1891, when they moved to Janesville, where Mr. Wikom died on February 9, 1905. O their three children, Clara, eldest, Clara W. died in 1901; Ella M. is the wife of James R. Lamb of Milton avenue; Silvia Hurd is unmarried and has lived with her mother.

Mrs. Wikom has been an active woman, keen in her management of the several farms which her husband left in the towns of Fulton, Janesville, Harmony and Magnolia. She was a member of the First Congregational church, in which she was active up to about seventy years of age. Since that time her physical strength had not equal to much more than her own home and family interests, and during the past year or more her powers have gradually failed. The end was precipitated by a stroke of paralysis a few weeks ago, and for several days Mrs. Wikom had been unconscious. Her son and daughter and other friends surrounded her with every care to the last. Besides her mother, already mentioned, she leaves two grandsons, Stuart J. and Gordon R. Lamb. She exchanges the activities of a long life for the peaceful interests of the life that hath no end.

RAILROAD TAX TO BE ASSURED STATE

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—Governor Philipp has listed the aid of members of the Wisconsin delegation in Congress in favor of positive legislation, that will guarantee to the state the right to continue to tax railroads, even though they are under government control. Wisconsin annually collects about $5,328,000 from Wisconsin railroads in taxation. Feeling that this would not happen under federal control, the tax on railroads, Gov. Philipp on January 11 sent a letter to all people of the Wisconsin delegation with reference to the matter. Replies have been received from practically all of the members saying that the state's interest will be properly protected.

"I merely wish to remind you that legislation in Congress before governmental control of railroads, and the guarantee of railroad income may in some ways affect the state's right to collect taxes on the railroads," says Gov. Philipp in his letter. "This income should be protected and I will ask you to clearly scrutinize all bills that are put forward by Congress for the purpose of which is to give control of the railroads to the general government as a war measure. Legislation of this type has been taken up about every right the states have had. I think this can be said of the fuel and food legislation, and I am not certain that the same thing would not happen in giving the right to control of the railroads to the general government, even to the extent that the state might be barred from assessing the taxes that this purpose is in the interest of the general government."

Replies have been received from Congressman J. H. Davidson, Oskosh; F. L. Landon, Janesville; James F. Landon, Janesville; William J. Cary, Milwaukee; John H. Esch, La Crosse; Senator Robert M. La Follette, Madison. The most enthusiastic reply came from Congressman Spooner, who is a ranking member on the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the house.

"I beg to state," says Congressman Esch, "that the pending railroad bill, which our committee on interstate and foreign commerce has been considering for the last two weeks, contains no positive provision giving the general government power of taxation while the railroads are under federal control. The other day when Commissioner Anderson of the Interstate Commerce Commission was before our committee, he was cross-examined by some of our members on the very question you have in mind and replied that if we did not take the railroads to interfere with the right of the states taxing them within their respective jurisdictions, the states would be permitted to continue to tax as heretofore, but he suggested that if any state placed an unreasonable tax upon an interstate carrier, that the government would therefore interpose its power to prevent the states from taxing them within their respective jurisdictions."

"In view of the situation and the fear you express, it may be wise for us to insert a positive declaration to the effect that government control should not deprive the states of their power of taxation. There are many witnesses yet to be heard, including Director General McAdoo and officials of the railroads, and the point on which in your letter can be submitted to them and I will be pleased to do this. When the committee comes to action, will submit for its consideration a proposed amendment, along the line suggested. Personally, I do not believe the federal government should interfere in the taxation of railroads by States."

Congressman Lenroot said that after full consideration he had reached the conclusion, "I have no objection to the taking over of the railroads by the government does not affect state taxes levied against such railroads where the levy is upon the ad valorem system."

THIS MAN FORCES IDLENESS ON MILLIONS OF THESE WORKERS TO SPEED SUPPLIES TO THESE SOLDIERS

Above—Typical crowd of industrial army (left) and Coal Administrator Garfield. Below—Soldiers now in France to whom Garfield figures his shutdown order will allow supplies to be sent speedily.

Coal Administrator Garfield's defense of his industrial shutdown and heatless Mondays' order is that it was the only way to coal the hundreds of ships which must leave Atlantic ports with supplies and munitions for the soldiers in France. He answers critics who are alarmed over stopped production by pointing out that production for war uses was useless if the product were not moved overseas.

Save a Car a Day!

The Chicago & North Western Railway has appealed to all concerned to institute a general campaign, to increase efficiency in the handling of freight cars, of which there is a serious shortage for immediate use, to move fuel, food, munitions and commodities of all kinds. As very little additional new equipment will be immediately available, this pressing need must be met by a better use of cars now built. The railroads and shippers must therefore, DO MORE WITH LESS.

The railroads must perform each item connected with transportation more promptly, and furnish only such equipment as is needed for immediate shipment to each shipper, and also furnish the capacity of car necessary to fit the load to be shipped.

Shippers should place orders for cars in accordance with the size of the load they have to ship, and see that the full cubic or weight carrying capacity of each car loaded is utilized to its fullest extent, and that it is loaded within twenty-four hours, wherever possible, and always within the forty-eight hours free time, and that cars received are unloaded with the utmost possible dispatch.

In order to secure the maximum results it is absolutely necessary that the railroads and the shippers co-operate in every possible way, in order to SAVE A CAR A DAY.

The Chicago & North Western Railway invites suggestions from shippers and receivers of freight on any phase of this question tending toward the improvement in the service.

Transportation is one of the most essential things in connection with the winning of the war, and all concerned are urged to enter into the spirit of this campaign: to keep enthusiastic themselves, and to use every effort to enhance others, to the end that nothing will be left undone to improve the situation. It is urged that no red tape or lack of brain matter interfere with anything that can be done along this line, and further that what can be done be done NOW, when the greatest demands are being made for transportation.

The railroads will circulate each shipper and receiver of freight more in detail.

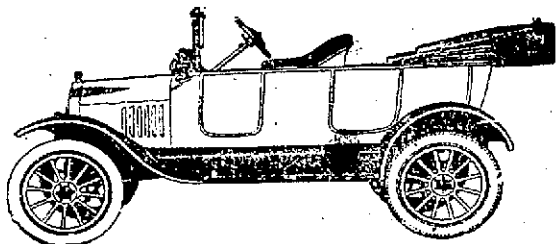

President Wilson said:

"Let there be no misunderstanding. Our present and immediate task is to win the war and nothing shall turn us aside from it until it is accomplished. Every power and resource we possess, whether of men, of money, or of materials, is being devoted and will continue to be devoted to that purpose until it is achieved."

Transportation is a vital point in this program. Until victory is ours, let each do his part in getting ACTION.

News Notes from Movieland

—BY DAISY DEAN—

The report that Marguerite Marsh will appear soon in a picture with her sister Mae recalls the interesting fact that Marguerite once stood above her now famous sister in the silent profession. Mae went to the studio one day with Marguerite. She was spied by a director, and that was the start of her brilliant career. She soon completely distanced her sister, and the latter is not heard much of now. Other sisters in the movies are Dorothy and Lillian Gish, Shirley Mason and Violette Dana, and Constance and Norma Talmadge.

SERIOUS PLAYS

The Goldwyn Pictures corporation president, Samuel Goldfish, predicts a growing interest of the public in solid plays. In that view he takes a position quite opposite to most producers for the movies and the stage, including Belasco.

He is right, too, if there is anything in the commonly accepted idea that the play which is popular must be one to reflect the common mood of its audience.

The other argument was based on the idea that persons engrossed by serious interests desire light, these, however empty, to divert their minds.

This was convincing to most persons. But book publishers already have found that the interest of the public in serious subjects is growing steadily since the country has been at war, while the demand for frivolous books has not increased in proportion.

This tendency will be paralleled in the movies, says Goldfish.

"America is aroused emotionally as it has not been for half a century," he says. "The reflection of this tremendous and constantly growing demand for picture entertainment and which expresses the stress of the moment, and its optimism."

"There is a decided trend toward sturdy, upstanding heart-interest drama."

"Never before have the people of the whole world been living and thinking so seriously."

"Many thought this country's entrance into the war would put a premium on light, frothy comedies as a relief from the war's cares, but every evidence is that the contrary is the truth."

The Goldwyn Pictures corporation policy for the coming year will match this feeling, he says, and every effort will be made to improve the quality of the pictures and make them more worthy of serious consideration.

A certain average in both studies and deportment will excuse a pupil from taking these examinations and excuse them from school for both days. Consequently those fortunate to be exempt are wearing very superior smiles these days. Then there are the two other divisions—those who have a high enough average to exempt them but whose deportment is not so good, and those who have a good conduct report but have not reached the required average in each study. From them come loud lamentations and groans, and feelings of rebellion toward the powers that be—the teachers—who issued these edicts.

When War Is History These Men And These Words Will Live On

When the world war is but a memory the slogans of the leaders will stand out in the memories of nations as have the slogans of great leaders in all wars. The children in the schools, the orators on the stump, the after-dinner speakers of tomorrow will be mouthing the words of the great men of 1914—as we today repeat, on the slightest occasion, "We have met the enemy and they are ours," or "We'll fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

In the history of the war will be written big the words of Brigadier General H. J. Elles, whose message—"The tank corps expects that every tank will do its damndest"—sent the great, lumbering, fire-spitting monsters of steel crashing through the German lines at Cambrai, through the Hindenburg line. Elles' words were followed by Elles' action. He was in command of the entire tank squadron and the tanks made possible were one of the wonders of the war. His words recall the promise of another great leader, dear to the hearts of all Englishmen—Admiral Nelson. "England expects every man to do his duty," was Nelson's slogan.

Maude Passes—Words Live. One can picture, remembering the days of the little schoolroom with notions on the blackboard, the teachers of tomorrow emphasizing the words of General F. S. Maude. "Time in war is everything," General Maude, the conqueror of Baghdad, the hero of Kutel-Amara, is already dead. He succumbed to cholera in an army hospital in Mesopotamia and was buried in the center of the British cemetery north of Baghdad, adjoining the old Turkish cavalry barracks. A simple wooden cross marks his grave.

The axiom of time was the favorite speech of the modest general and he suggested one time that every officer ought to have the axiom inscribed on his shaving glass. And by the belief in his words Maude regulated his own life and habits. He had the reputation of never being late for an appointment and on an occasion just before his death when he wished to present medals to some of his men which earned them—a thing he always made it a point to do—he traveled sixty miles in an aeroplane rather than put up with the delay of a land drive.

"Delay in that way would have defeated the object aimed at," was his answer to question and comment from fellow officers.

Nivelle's Maxim Saved Paris. Nivelle's words, "They shall not pass," are credited to General Robert Georges Nivelle and were uttered as the slogan of French arms when the Hun supreme glory had lasted a little more than four months.

SCORES OF GERMANS ARRESTED IN BRAZIL

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, Jan. 24.—Brazil, now that it has entered the war, is having its spy scare and it has become more general even than in some of the other belligerent countries. It is only necessary for a person to be a foreigner and a stranger in any Brazilian town to become the object of suspicious regard by the people and even of police surveillance. Orders have gone out from Rio de Janeiro for the arrest of large numbers of Germans, many of whom appear to be innocent business men. Although the espionage is well organized in southern Brazil, spies are reported to have been especially active in the state of San Paulo and the government has taken rigid measures for watching all suspects there.

As soon as the government began these measures of precaution, however, a large number of rich and well-known German business men, who were under suspicion of being German government agents succeeded in escaping into the Argentine Republic with whatever secrets they may have had.

IS NOT A CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE OF MAYOR

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—William George Bruce, secretary of the Association of Commerce, does not aspire to the mayoralty. From numerous sources he had been suggested as a candidate who would, at this time, be particularly desirable to the voters. Mr. Bruce issued the following statement:

"My present plan of life does not contemplate political office. I am not a candidate for the mayoralty and will not be. That is final. The job I have been trying to fill is as big as that of the mayor's office. At any rate, it has greater possibilities for rendering promotional services to the community and in advancing its material progress."

There are only two candidates for the mayoralty so far, one for comptroller and one for city treasurer in the non-partisan campaign. The socialists are making their own nomination and promise a man for every office. The total number of ward aldermanic candidates is 46 to date and for alderman-at-large there are 12.

DECREASE IN NUMBER OF SUPREME COURT CASES

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—With the announcement of the decision of cases at the next convening of the supreme court on February 5, the court will take up a new calendar. The first cases in the January calendar will be taken up for argument in February. This calendar is shorter than usual and to date only 100 cases have been listed and eight are state cases. Several of the circuits that usually had ten or more cases before the court on appeal have one or two cases at this time. It is evident that the war has lessened the number of cases before the high court and the report from many sections of the state, according to lawyers, is that there is less litigation in many of the circuits than heretofore. Cases from Winnebago county will be argued at the next assignment of the court.

GROCERS TOLD TO CLOSE AT NOON MONDAYS

Washington, Jan. 24.—The food administration has sent the following telegram to all state administrators east of the Mississippi River:

"It is agreed by the food and fuel administrators that all wholesale and retail stores dealing in foods should close at noon on Mondays from January 28 to March 25 from patriotic motives, except where the closing will interfere with the sufficient distribution of food for the immediate needs of the communities; necessity for remaining open and heated to be determined by local food administrators, who shall notify fuel administrators. Suspension of business on Monday does not apply to automobiles or garages, according to Dr. Garfield.
